A collaborative or democratic leadership approach may improve teamwork by encouraging participation, open communication, and shared problem-solving.

Governance is critical because healthcare projects involve sensitive data, compliance requirements, and significant organisational risks. Oversight ensures accountability, privacy protection, and regulatory compliance.

ITSM Value Creation

From an ITSM perspective, services create value when they are both functional and user-friendly. Poor user experience may reduce satisfaction even if the platform works technically.

Communication Management

One suitable strategy is standardising communication processes through regular meetings, clear documentation, and shared collaboration platforms. This can reduce misunderstandings and improve team alignment.
